Emergency Shelter Programs

There are a wide variety of temporary and long-term shelter programs. Some of these are public shelters through the City of Philadelphia Office of Emergency Shelter and Services (OESS) and others are private. Admission criteria are different for each shelter and some shelters specialize in certain populations. Public shelters rely on OESS to coordinate and approve admissions.

COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS

Health centers provide high quality preventive and primary health care to patients regardless of their ability to pay. Health center quality of care equals and often surpasses that provided by other primary care providers. Overall, health centers emphasize coordinated primary and preventive services or a "medical home" that promotes reductions in health disparities for underserved populations.

Inmate & Ex-offender Voting Rights

Under Pennsylvania law, people with a criminal record who have been released from prison, or who will be freed by the time of the election, are eligible to vote. This is true even if they are on parole or probation. Only those people who are incarcerated on a felony conviction are not allowed to vote. Voting rights are automatically restored upon release from prison.

Who is eligible to register and vote?

- Individuals with a criminal record who have been released from prison
- Individuals who are on probation or released on parole (including convicted felons)
- Individuals in a halfway house NOT on pre-release status

Who must vote by absentee ballot?

- Individuals incarcerated while awaiting trial
- Incarcerated individuals convicted of misdemeanors
- Individuals under house arrest

Who is not eligible to register and vote?

- Individuals who are incarcerated (in a penal institution or halfway house) because of a felony conviction and who won't be released before the election
- Individuals in a halfway house on pre-release status
- Individuals who have been convicted of violating the PA election laws within the past four years

If you know of an eligible voter who has been in prison and is having trouble registering to vote or being allowed to vote, please have him or her contact the ACLU of Pennsylvania:

- Eastern office toll-free: 1-877-PHL-ACLU
